School success soars

For the first time ever, all of our secondary schools are now rated 'good' by Ofsted

It's all smiles at schools across the borough following news that every Council-maintained secondary school has been rated as 'good' by Ofsted for the first time.

And the good news for local families doesn't stop there, because the borough's primary schools are now in the top ten in the country for pupil improvement, and the attainment gaps between disadvantaged and advantaged pupils are among the lowest in England.

This success is all down to the strong relationships between schools, parents, children, staff, teachers and governors; supported and co-ordinated by the Council.

It is for this reason that at this month's Full Council meeting, Cllr Grace Williams, Cabinet Member for Children and Young People, spoke of disappointment at the Government's desire for all schools to become academies by 2022.

She told how the Council firmly believes in local decision-making based on the best interests of children – and highlighted the ongoing improvements at Council-maintained schools as a shining example of the positive progress that can be achieved through close working between a local authority and its family of schools.

Cllr Williams said: "We fully support schools choosing to remain as local authority-maintained schools.

"If a school wishes to become an academy, we believe that the decision should rest in the hands of that school and its governors and should only be taken on the basis of strong evidence and following consultation with parents and staff.

"Over the coming months and years we will work in partnership to investigate all options for how the Waltham Forest family of schools can continue to focus on improvement, drive up standards and remain together, as well as develop new ways of working to ensure ongoing success for our schools."

Community stands united

Councillors pledged to celebrate tolerance and togetherness at a Full Council meeting on 14 July

- Council's public pledge promotes 'One community' – no hatred
- Statement celebrates tolerance and togetherness

Waltham Forest Council has issued a statement, pledging to do all it can to ensure no-one feels victimised, scared or alone in our borough.

The statement, entitled 'No hatred - one community' celebrates the borough's diversity and promotes tolerance and togetherness, while condemning hatred – whatever form it may take.

Cllr Liaquat Ali MBE JP, Cabinet Member for Community Safety and Cohesion, said: "Our residents have for a long time had a strong sense of community and of belonging, been respectful towards others and rightly been proud of the borough's diversity. This is one of the reasons why Waltham Forest is such a great place to live, work and visit.

"For this to continue being a place where everyone can enjoy a quality life, we have a responsibility to come together as a community and send a clear message to anyone who would seek to divide us that they will always fail."

The Council is in the process of refreshing its community cohesion strategy and building upon the work it has already carried out to further strengthen the diverse and tolerant community everyone in Waltham Forest has helped create. You can read the full pledge by turning to p12.

In my opinion

Gen Ford

Walthamstow Resident and Patient Participation Group Chair

Are you, or your family, registered as a patient with a local GP practice? If so, you may have noticed that it is becoming harder and harder to get an appointment.

You may also have noticed that it is very hard to see the same doctor all the time.

Many practices also have problems with their telephone systems and the processes they use to communicate with you.

Did you know that 90 per cent of all contact with the NHS happens in the community – at your GP surgery, when you have a blood test and things like that?

Part of the reason you are noticing problems is because not enough doctors or nurses have been trained. It takes 10 years to train a doctor to be a General Practitioner – so the problem is not going to be solved in the near future.

All of this may be worrying – but there are things you can do to change the situation.

Firstly, many people make appointments to see their GP when they really don't need to see a doctor. Quite often your local pharmacy can help – with coughs, colds, sprains, insect bites. Sometimes you could see a health care assistant, or nurse instead of wanting to see a doctor. For many illnesses you can treat yourself with over the counter medication and by simply resting.

Secondly, every GP Practice is required as part of their contract to have a Patient Participation Group (PPG).

These groups are having more and more of a say about what healthcare services will be provided to your community; and when – and where – they will be provided.

Only last month my PPG organised a community meeting attended by more than 80 people. At the meeting we discussed major changes that have been proposed about where and how everyone in Waltham Forest will be able to see their GP in the future. As a result of the meeting the plans have been changed to better reflect what the community wants.

I am Chair of the PPG at the Addison Road Practice in Walthamstow. Through work we have done the practice has moved forward on replacing their phone system – and on other improvements suggested by us.

I am also helping to get PPGs set up in all practices across the borough.

You can make a difference, too. Please ask at your GP practice about joining their PPG. By being a member you will know what is going on, and you can choose to get involved when it is a subject that you are interested in.

If your GP is not responsive (and some are not) please feel free to get in touch and I can help get you involved. Email me at gen@gmjford.com

Support for voluntary sector

Local voluntary organisations will be offered specialist support as part of a pioneering new approach to help them overcome the challenges posed by changes to funding in the sector.

Recognising the importance of the voluntary, community and social enterprise (VCSE) sector, Waltham Forest Council is looking to commission a new service whose role will be to help organisations become more self-reliant and to increase levels of volunteering in the borough.

The contract is worth £750,000 over a period of five years. That means the value of this contract is £30,000 more per year than the previous voluntary sector support contract.

The move comes in response to the growing financial uncertainty experienced by many VCSE organisations.

In 2015, the Council carried out a review of the VCSE sector, which found that many local organisations were struggling in the current financial climate. It also highlighted low levels of volunteering in Waltham Forest.

Therefore, support offered through the VCSE Capacity Development Service will include funding advice, building stronger connections to enable better growth, becoming contract ready and advice on how to increase volunteer numbers.

The service will also look to create informal opportunities for VCSE organisations to share learning, offer advice around structured joint working and enhance relationships with the private and public sectors.

In addition to helping organisations increase levels of volunteering, the service will aim to support VCSE managers to better train and develop their volunteers.

"The VCSE sector is hugely important and plays a vital role in helping thousands of residents to enjoy life here in Waltham Forest," said Cllr Liaquat Ali MBE JP, Cabinet Member for Community Safety and Cohesion.

"Our new VCSE Capacity Development Service will help the sector to become more sustainable, focusing on finding solutions and development opportunities for people and for organisations, not doing things for them."

New entrance at Eton Manor

Paul Osborn, Lee Valley Regional Park Authority; Peter Tudor, Director of Visitor Services, Queen Elizabeth Olympic Park; Cllr Ahsan Khan and Council Leader, Chris Robbins, walk the new pedestrian entrance at Eton Manor

A new pedestrian entrance has opened at Eton Manor in Leyton, which provides a convenient link between Waltham Forest and the Queen Elizabeth Olympic Park in Stratford.

Eton Manor (Leadmill Lane, E20 3AD), which is owned and managed by the Lee Valley Regional Park Authority, hosted the wheelchair tennis events during the London 2012 Paralympic Games, and was the only purpose-built Paralympic venue.

As part of the site's Olympic legacy transformation it became the Lee Valley Hockey and Tennis Centre. Since opening in May 2014 the venue has hosted a popular programme of community tennis and hockey, as well as national and international competitions.

> "I am absolutely delighted that this new entrance at Eton Manor is now open."

The Council has held a long-term aspiration for Eton Manor to provide a northern entry point to the Olympic Park for residents of the borough, as well as an entry point to Waltham Forest from Stratford and the Olympic Park. As part of the works a new bridge has been built at Ruckholt Road, which provides a walking route from Leyton.

Council Leader, Chris Robbins, told Waltham Forest News: "I am absolutely delighted that this new entrance at Eton Manor is now open. We have wanted to deliver a northern entry point to the Olympic Park for our residents for some time, and thanks to our partnership working with the Lee Valley Regional Park Authority and the London Legacy Development Corporation (LDCC) we have been able to deliver this."

Official Olympic Park signage has been used at the new entrance, and an open meadow has been created alongside for visitors to enjoy as they make their journey. While the majority of planting is now complete, further species will be added later this year.

The project has been jointly funded by Waltham Forest Council, Lee Valley Regional Park Authority and the LLDC.

Paul Osborn, Chair of Lee Valley Regional Park Authority, said: "This new gateway gives Waltham Forest residents even better access to Queen Elizabeth Olympic Park and brings the community directly to Lee Valley Hockey and Tennis Centre to enjoy its popular participation programmes and world class events."

The 2016/17 Green Flag was raised in Lloyd Park

Green Flag

Walthamstow's Lloyd Park (Forest Road, E17 4PP) has received the prestigious Green Flag award for the fourth year running. Organised by Keep Britain Tidy, the Green Flag is the national standard for parks and green spaces in England and Wales, and recognises and rewards the Country's best green spaces. The scheme is celebrating its 20th anniversary this year. The flag was raised in Lloyd Park by Cllr Clyde Loakes, Deputy Leader and Cabinet Member for Environment, and Chris Worman MBE, the longest serving Green Flag award judge.

Library Locals

Residents are set to be asked what they think of proposals for the borough's Library Locals, which aim to improve facilities for families across Waltham Forest. The Council's vision is for the Library Locals to match up to the best public library facilities in London and have the built-in flexibility to adapt to future service needs. In a bid to improve Waltham Forest's Library Locals, the Council will be undertaking a public consultation to enable residents to have their say over proposed changes. Full details will be announced in the coming days on the Council's website, via Twitter and in the next edition of Waltham Forest News.

Cycling School

If you're keen to brush up on your cycling know-how, or want to try riding a bike for the first time, Waltham Forest Council's free Summer Cycling School will give you all the skills you need to explore the borough on two wheels. The scheme runs from Monday 1 to Friday 26 August and sessions will take place at locations throughout the borough. You can chose from four-day training courses, half day training for beginners, family-led rides, 'try a bike' sessions for all abilities and bike maintenance training. Most courses are suitable for ages six and up.

A better borough for residents

Waltham Forest Council has four key priorities to help improve the lives of everyone who lives and works in the borough. In this edition we look at what is being done to build a strong local economy and thriving town centres

The Scene at Cleveland Place has won more awards

Supporting the local economy and helping our town centres to grow and thrive is a top priority for the Council. We are investing in a wide range of regeneration schemes across the borough in order to build vibrant communities that people enjoy living in, with access to the modern services and facilities that our residents deserve. We are also working on a number of innovative housing schemes and developments so that everyone has a quality place to live.

Central Parade

An exciting new creative space has opened at Central Parade in Walthamstow (6-10 Hoe Street, E17 4RT), providing space for up to 50 independent creative businesses to develop and showcase their work. The creative space has a café-bakery on site, along with flexible event and exhibition space which will be available to the wider community.

Creative businesses that have already taken residence in the building include a music producer, art director, bridal gown designer and a massage and well-being specialist. The scheme has been made possible thanks to funding from the Greater London Authority (GLA), and is being managed by community interest company Meanwhile Space.

Cllr Clare Coghill, Cabinet Member for Economic Growth and High Streets, told Waltham Forest News: "Waltham Forest is London's fastest growing hotspot for culture and creativity, so it is ideal for us to be able to use this building to provide more space for local creative businesses to grow and thrive."

> "Waltham Forest is London's fastest-growing hotspot for culture and creativity, so it is ideal for us to provide more space for local businesses to grown and thrive."

Central Parade has been identified for long-term development by the Council due to its key location in Walthamstow Town Centre. The creative space will be housed in the building for a minimum period of two years.

For more information visit www.centralparade.com.

Celebrating The Scene

Just over the road from Central Parade is The Scene at Cleveland Place, which continues to pick up awards in recognition of its outstanding design and architecture. Earlier this month The Scene was named the most sustainable high-density address in London at the prestigious Housing Design Awards, which are held in partnership with the London Sustainable Development Commission (LSDC). This came hot on the heels of The Scene being named the winner in the mixed-use category at the New London Awards, which celebrate the best architecture, planning and development in the capital.

The Scene opened in November 2014, providing 121 new homes, including 73 affordable-rent and shared ownership apartments. The development also brought a permanent cinema back to the borough after more than a decade, as well as five new restaurants – Nando's, Pizza Express, Turtle Bay, Yum-Yum and Grillstock.

Helping residents find homes

Helping residents find good quality accommodation in Waltham Forest is another key goal for the Council, and a new initiative has helped families move off the housing waiting list and into new homes.

The first four units to complete in a new development on Walthamstow High Street are now being rented by residents who were previously being housed in temporary accommodation outside the borough. The properties are being rented via Lettings Waltham Forest, the Council's social lettings agency, after a deal was agreed with the property developer, Andrew Lipton.

Cllr Khevyn Limbajee, Cabinet Member for Housing, said: "This agreement has allowed residents to find suitable accommodation, with the added security of renting via our Lettings Waltham Forest service. Providing good quality affordable housing is an issue not just in Waltham Forest, but across London. We will be increasing our work in this area to provide a helping hand to as many of our residents as we can."

Marlowe Road Redevelopment

Work on the Marlowe Road Estate in Walthamstow is now set to start in September 2016. Site preparation work at Marlowe Road had been targeted to start in July, however technical details of the development agreement between the Council and Countryside have taken longer to agree than anticipated, resulting in a short delay.

The basketball court and children's play area will remain open throughout the summer holidays until work begins. After that a temporary replacement play area is being created as part of the project. If residents have any enquiries they can contact the Council's Strategic Housing and Investment Team on 020 8496 3000.

What you say

Residents tell Waltham Forest News what they think about the Council's efforts to build a strong local economy and thriving town centres

Nicola Blackwood and daughter Anniah, Walthamstow

"We used to live in Tower Hamlets, but we now live near Lloyd Park. We love it here. There is a good mixture of different races living here together happily; people get on. There are lots of nice little pockets of interesting places to visit and decent shops. I know that more housing is going up in the area; so I want to know that green spaces will be kept and that the area won't become too overcrowded. Waltham Forest is my favourite area of London."

Laurence Tatnall, Walthamstow

"We've been here around seven or eight years. The change in the borough in that time has been massive; mostly for the better. But it is sad that this has seemed to lead to house prices and rents increasing and people having to move out. We're really looking forward to Waltham Forest Leisure Centre reopening this year, as our son loves swimming. I'm sure it's going to be a great facility for the community."

Sarah Wasserman, Walthamstow

"I really like the new creative hub that's opened at Central Parade, especially the bread shop, which I know has been popular with people. I think it looks great now; much better than the area used to be. I'd like to see a decent store open in Walthamstow when the BHS shuts, as it's a prominent corner space. I love living in Walthamstow; we're in the park nearly every day."

Gary Latham, Walthamstow

"I've been living here for about 12 years now; when we moved there wasn't an awful lot to do and there weren't many decent shops or pubs to go to. So the change in the area has been tremendous; even though it can sometimes feel like there has been a bit of gentrification. My one personal issue is that I think there is too much dog mess on the streets, it's really anti-social and people need to think about their actions."

Local economy

Priority:

We will help build a strong local economy and thriving town centres

Commitment:

- Support our schools and colleges to provide top quality education and training across the borough
- Work to improve our town centres so that they have the quality mix of shops and services that you want
- Actively promote a borough wide 'spend local' campaign to keep wealth in our borough and support local businesses
- Provide an investment fund for local businesses and services in our town centres

Priority: We will keep your neighbourhood clean and safe

Priority: We will support affordable housing for everyone's needs

Priority: Help all of our residents enjoy a good quality of life

You can walk or cycle one of six new trails thanks to the Council's Waltham Forest Wanders scheme

WF Wanders

A series of walking and cycling trails has been launched to help people find out more about the people and places that put Waltham Forest on the map. Waltham Forest Wanders has six different routes which each focus on a different part of the borough, with details of history, famous people and local landmarks being brought to life along the way. Each guide includes details on cycling and walking conditions, public transport links and how long it should take to complete, so you can prepare before you set out.

Rail closures

Work to upgrade the London Overground between Gospel Oak and Barking and the West Anglia Main Line between Edmonton and Stratford has begun, and Network Rail is warning that there will be some disruption. The project to electrify the Overground will allow four-car electric trains to replace the existing two-car diesel trains from January 2018. Works include installing overhead power lines, lengthening platforms and strengthening or replacing bridges. No service will run between South Tottenham and Barking until Sunday 25 September. Trains run from Gospel Oak to South Tottenham on weekdays only. The line fully closes from Monday 26 September to February 2017. A bridge at Bream Close, on the border of Haringey and Waltham Forest, will be replaced between November and January 2017 while the line is closed. West Anglia Main Line improvements will see a third line being built between Stratford and Angel Road Station in Edmonton from 2017 onwards. Before the new track is installed, several bridges and subways need to be replaced or strengthened. Until Friday 29 July Network Rail will be demolishing a disused structure next to the River Lea navigation canal. The towpath is closed and has been replaced with a floating pontoon.

A new fence was installed around West Court to improve security and stop fly-tipping problems, and the Council has taken over responsibility for grounds maintenance

Church Hill clean up

- Improvements carried out on Walthamstow estate
- Council steps in to ensure building is kept clean and safe for residents

An estate in Walthamstow has been improved for residents and those living nearby after the Council stepped in to make sure that the necessary remedial action was being taken.

West Court is a block of flats in Church Hill, Walthamstow, which had a number of long-standing issues with fly-tipping, grounds maintenance, neglect and mismanagement. The Council's Landlord Licensing and Neighbourhoods teams worked together to ensure a number of improvements were made to address these problems and improve conditions for residents.

"This is a great example of the Council taking decisive action in order to improve conditions for our residents," said Cllr Khevyn Limbajee, Cabinet Member for Housing. "Everyone in the borough deserves to have a clean and safe neighbourhood, and we are keen to work alongside landlords and managing agents to improve property standards and reduce anti-social behaviour."

West Court is a block of 16 flats which each have a separate leaseholder. After being alerted to the issues with the building the Council organised meetings with local residents' groups and councillors to discuss the issues at West Court and agree a plan for engaging with the management company.

When the Landlord Licensing team first inspected the block in April 2015 they found a number of issues, and a letter was sent to the management company setting out the improvements required. Some of these were completed a few weeks later. The Landlord Licensing team also carried out inspections on the licenced flats to check that they were complying with conditions. Some of the properties were given a short-term licence until required improvements were made.

The Council's Neighbourhoods team also served the management company with formal notices requiring them to clear the building's grounds of all litter and waste, and set up a proper weekly schedule for waste clearance.

The owners were also required to put up a new fence around the entire perimeter of the site, to improve security, prevent fly-tipping and stop a general build-up of waste around the building.

While the owners complied with the majority of the requirements, they struggled to maintain a satisfactory cleaning and grounds maintenance schedule. To assist, the Council reached an agreement with the owners to take over the cleansing and grounds maintenance for the building, which will ensure that the work is carried out to a high standard.

> "Everyone deserves to have a clean and safe neighbourhood. We are keen to work alongside landlords to improve property standards."

The Council launched its landlord licensing scheme in April 2015 to reduce anti-social behaviour and improve living standards for residents in the private rented property sector. The scheme requires landlords to hold a separate licence for each property they rent out in the borough, and means landlords can be prosecuted if they fail to adhere to certain licence conditions.

Since launching the scheme the Council has received over 20,000 licence applications from landlords. The scheme is also being actively enforced through a series of action days which see inspections carried out on properties throughout the borough. Twenty five landlords have already been prosecuted for not obtaining a landlord licence, with courts ordering fines and costs totalling more than £90,000 for those convicted.

Faster flatbreads

- Local restaurant using Council's cargo bike for new delivery service
- Residents can also hire cargo bikes for free

Andrew and Dee from Eat 17 with their delivery bike

Walthamstow restaurant Eat 17 has launched a new takeaway service so you can order their famous flatbreads on the go, and the first batch of deliveries are being made fast and emission-free on a cargo bike provided by the Council.

Independent eaterie Eat 17 (Orford Road, E17 9NJ) recently launched their first online delivery service via takeaway website Just Eat. There are seven different flatbreads available to order, including Seven Hour Lamb, Tuna Tartar, Satay Beef Shortrib and Buttermilk Chicken. There is also a vegetarian variety.

The Council is helping out by providing a cargo bike for deliveries on an initial month-long trial basis, as part of its commitment to promoting walking and cycling, and improving air quality across Waltham Forest.

Cllr Clyde Loakes, Deputy Leader and Cabinet Member for Environment said: "We are always looking for new and innovative ways to promote walking and cycling in the borough, and if we can do this while helping out a local business then it's a win all-round.

"Cargo bikes are a great alternative to the car and are, of course, emission free. They can also avoid traffic congestion so deliveries should arrive on time!"

The Council operates a free cargo bike hire scheme, with different bikes available that are perfect for the school run, shopping trips or local deliveries.

The Christiania is strong, durable and versatile, and is perfect for parents who normally drive their children to school but want the opportunity to try cycling as an alternative to the car. The Christiania is the family vehicle of choice for local trips to school and the shops in Denmark, Holland and Sweden, and is easy to power with its seven low gears. The version available to hire has a bench, harness and waist belt to accommodate two children.

If you want to try a bike for making deliveries then the Omnium Cargo may be for you. It is lightweight and not as wide as a three-wheeled bike, which makes it easy to filter through traffic and get to your destination quickly.

A refundable deposit of £100 is required when you pick up a cargo bike, and first time users will need to have an hour long induction and quick road test before hitting the streets.

Members Allowances scheme

Elected Members (Councillors) of an Authority are entitled under the Members' Allowances scheme to receive remuneration for the duties they perform. This scheme is set out in the Constitution of the Council.

The scheme is governed by the Local Government & Housing Act, 1989, as amended and the Local Authorities (Members' Allowances) (England) Regulations, 2003. All Councillors are entitled to a basic allowance to cover their democratic duties. Some Councillors also receive a Special Responsibility Allowance (SRA) reflecting the level of additional duties they undertake (see the table below). Councillors who hold more than one post are only entitled to claim the SRA with the greatest value. In appropriate circumstances, Councillors can claim an allowance towards carers' costs, travelling and subsistence costs when carrying out certain duties outside the Borough.

Members Allowances were reduced by 5% and then frozen in 2011 in response to the difficult economic climate facing residents and the financial constraints on Local Government spending. A review in 2015 showed that members allowances were below the recommended levels of the London Councils Independent Panel on Members' Allowances which was published in June 2014. Accordingly, in line with the June 2014 Independent Remuneration Panel recommendations, the Council resolved to unfreeze the allowances and to apply an annual increase equivalent to the NJC increase for officers for 2015/16 onwards. The allowance for the independent person appointed under S28 of the Localism Act 2011 was not included in this increase and therefore remains at its 2014/15 level and will be reviewed next year.

The following table sets out the current rates of Members' Allowances for the Municipal Year, 2016/17. Also set out are payments made to individual Members in the financial year 2015/16. The 2015/16 figures also reflect that some Councillors had changes of responsibility during the year.

Waltham Forest

Walthamstow

Illustrator Matt Richards; High Street Ward Councillor, Clare Coghill, and artist Amanda Parker unveiled the new mural with the help of Stoneydown Park Primary School pupils

On The Move with Stoneydown

- A new mural is brightening up Pretoria Avenue
- The lottery-funded artwork includes over 200 children's drawings

If you've recently taken a stroll along Pretoria Avenue, you can't have failed to notice the striking new mural that has appeared outside Stoneydown Park Primary School (Pretoria Avenue, E17 6JY).

The 'On The Move' Art Trail was originally conceived by local artist Amanda Parker from The Creative Arts Company. By the end of the project, more than 400 local people aged three to 83 had been involved.

Amanda told Waltham Forest News: "I have collaborated with Stoneydown on several mosaic projects in the past, and I've always enjoyed working with the school and its pupils.

"The school's headteacher, Jayne Cominetti, and I came up with a plan to create a large-scale art installation that would celebrate Walthamstow's rich history and create a link between the school's seperate infant and junior sites."

It was decided that pupils would be asked to think about and creatively respond to four key themes: entertainment, environment, politics and transport.

Amanda explains: "We were lucky to have some wonderful guests who spoke to pupils about the different themes. A number of community groups gave special assemblies and presentations. The students enjoyed, among others, an overview of politics by Cllr Clare Coghill, a talk by local historian Lindsay Collier and a presentation of 'British Values' ideas by older peoples' group, 'Recycled Teens'."

Children started designing their artwork during lesson time, and there were several after school projects. During the Easter holidays pupils even had the opportunity to take part in a technology project to scan and catalogue their artwork, ready for the illustrator to start work.

Amanda explained: "I was delighted that Matt Richards, a local illustrator, agreed to get involved to help turn the pupils' individual drawings into a large-scale artwork. Without his professional skills and input, the project would not have been possible."

Between May and June Amanda and Matt collated the children's ideas and Matt drew the background scenery into which pupils' drawings were incorporated. He also added text and inspiring quotes to help tell Walthamstow's story.

Matt said: "I really enjoyed working on this community project. Children's drawings are great to work with as they're full of confidence, bright colours and bold designs. It was a trouble to pick what to use, as there was so much great work to choose from!

"I did an assembly with the children and explained what an illustrator does, how we draw on the computer and showed a video that explained how I used their artwork in the final design.

"It was also very important for me, personally, to explain to the children that you can make a living from drawing and doing the things you love."

The mural was made possible thanks to funding of nearly £12,000 received from The Big Lottery Fund, The Ernest Cook Trust and The Mackintosh Foundation.

It is made up of 20 large, printed metal panels, and was officially unveiled at Stoneydown Park Primary's Summer Fete on Friday 8 July.

The mural stretches for 40 metres. Or, to put it another way, the length of four London buses.

Amanda said: "The initiative has exceeded my expectations on all levels, thanks to the incredible input of all the participants and project partners. We have jointly created a vibrant piece of artwork that will be enjoyed by the whole community for many years to come.

"I urge everyone to take a look at the mural next time they're in the area."

In brief

Beacontree parties

More than 200 residents enjoyed a street party held in Beacontree Avenue on Saturday 9 July. The community-organised event, which was part-funded by a grant from the Hale End and Highams Park Community Ward Forum, was held in honour of Her Majesty The Queen's 90th birthday and to bring local people together. Residents enjoyed a visit from the London Fire Brigade, and The Mayor of Waltham Forest, Cllr Peter Herrington, also dropped in to wish residents well. The celebrations ended with a fireworks display at 9pm.

Eat or Heat

Residents are encouraged to donate a tin of food to the Eat or Heat foodbank on the last Friday of the month, and help provide emergency support to people in their community. It's easy to donate as there are more than a dozen 'Donation Stations' set up across E17 including The Rose and Crown (55 Hoe Street, E17 4SA); Significant Seams (131 Wood Street, E17 3LX) and The Mill (7-11 Coppermill Lane, E17 7HA). If you can't get there on a Friday, why not drop in a tin of food or dried goods such as rice or pasta over the weekend? A full list of where you can donate food, as well as a suggested 'shopping list', is available on the charity's website.

Stow Festival

Music fans will be pleased to hear that Walthamstow's annual, community-led music festival – The Stow Festival – returns to E17 for the sixth time this September. The festival will run from Thursday 15 to Sunday 18 September and includes music of all genres. There will be live performances in pubs, cafes, restaurants and all kinds of venues throughout Walthamstow. The festival organisers are also calling on local people to lend a hand and are looking for front of house support, tech support, comperes, stewards and general helpers. So if you have some time to spare, why not get involved? Last year more than 7,000 people were entertained during the festival weekend. The full festival line-up will be announced in the coming weeks, so keep an eye out for more information.

Waltham Forest

A special summer of events for all

- Waltham Forest offers events and activities for all ages this summer
- Council-organised events continue to bring residents together

More than 35,000 people of all ages turned out for the Walthamstow Garden Party on Saturday 16 and Sunday 17 July

With summer sunshine finally here, now is the perfect time to get out and about in Waltham Forest and discover the vast array of activities taking place right on your doorstep.

Whether it's entertainment for children and young people, attractions for culture vultures or events for residents of all ages, there's something for everyone to enjoy.

The Council runs a popular summer holiday activity programme for young people aged five to 19, which includes amazing arts and crafts, white knuckle water sports and dazzling drama productions. There are also many activities for young people with special educational needs or disabilities who are aged up to 25.

With more free activities having been added this year there are now more than 100 different things to do during the six-week school holiday.

You can find a complete what's on listing on the Children and Young People's Directory via the Council's website. Visit www.walthamforest.childrensservicedirectory.org.uk.

Alternatively, more musically minded young people can find out what the Waltham Forest Music Service has to offer. It boasts a variety of opportunities for young people to pick up and play a musical instrument – whether they're just starting out or looking to hone their skills.

Earlier this month, hundreds of young people from across the borough took to the stage to wow audiences during the two-day Waltham Forest Music Festival.

Twelve schools took part in two daytime concerts with performances from massed choirs as well as wind, ukulele and recorder groups. Audiences were treated to uplifting renditions of 'Ain't No Mountain High Enough' and 'Something Inside So Strong'. And, recently, groups from Waltham Forest have performed in concerts at the Barbican and Cadogan Hall in central London.

Residents have also been treated to some other amazing performances at festivals this month. The weekend of Saturday 16 and Sunday 17 July saw the return of the much-loved Walthamstow Garden Party, with acts including Mo' Kalamity, Max Romeo and Asian Dub Foundation – as well as a food festival, theatre, film, comedy, circus, performances by community groups and much, much more.

Council Leader, Chris Robbins, told Waltham Forest News: "This year's free Walthamstow Garden Party was a resounding success, with more than 35,000 people attending.

"It was fantastic to see so many people of all ages coming together and having such a good time."

Hot on the heels of the Garden Party, which was staged in conjunction with Barbican, Create and Arts Council England, is the Waltham Forest Mela on Sunday 31 July, followed by the Chingford Get Together on Saturday 13 August and finally the Leytonstone Get Together on Sunday 4 September.

The cultural offer doesn't stop there, because world renowned ceramicist Clare Twomey has transformed Walthamstow's William Morris Gallery (Forest Road, E17 4PP) into a living studio.

'Time Present and Time Past' sees 68 members of the public undertaking the role of 'apprentice' over 68 days, working alongside Twomey's master painter to apply 22 carat gold enamel to the surface of a vast tile panel embellished with William Morris's intricate Chrysanthemum design.

Anyone aged 16 or over can enter the ballot to become an apprentice for the day – simply visit the Gallery's website at www.wmgallery.org.uk.

Finally, Leyton became a hotspot on London's event map this month when Secret Cinema brought its unique immersive film experience to the borough. Running over two long weekends – starting on Friday 15 July and ending on Sunday 24 July – Secret Cinema presents Dirty Dancing invited crowds to head back to New York's Catskill Mountains for a sun-soaked, dance-fuelled event.

In brief

Artwork by Waltham Forest residents was exhibited at the Tate Modern

Uniting Friends exhibition

Artwork created by Waltham Forest residents was exhibited at the Tate Modern (Bankside, SE1 9TG) last month as part of Learning Disability Week 2016. Every year the world-renowned gallery teams up with north London charity Uniting Friends to exhibit work from people with learning disabilities who live in Waltham Forest and Redbridge. Uniting Friends is a social inclusion charity that supports people with learning disabilities in north east London. It provides opportunities for people to take part in social activities and develop their skills to reach their potential in the wider community. The exhibition pieces are a result of the charity's art competition 'Love is…'; a collaboration with the Waltham Forest and Redbridge Learning Disability teams. The competition invited residents to produce artwork that represents the things they love. From 53 entries, 17 were chosen by a panel of artists to be displayed at the Tate Modern's Starr Gallery on Tuesday 21 June. The artworks will also go on display at Waltham Forest Town Hall later this year.

Sea Cadets need volunteers

The Chingford-based Waltham Forest Sea Cadet Unit (48 Kings Road, E4 7HR) is appealing for adult volunteers aged between 18 and 60. The unit currently has more than 50 young members aged ten to 18 and meets every Tuesday and Thursday, between 7.15pm and 9.30pm. You will help young people to learn life skills through a nautical theme and the customs and traditions of the Royal Navy. All adult volunteers will need to go through Defence Business Service (DBS) vetting to work with young people. You will also have the chance to learn new skills, for which training will be offered.
